- Green Flag waved and cars enter the circuit in grid order, and without stopping proceed on the Green Flag lap with the lead cars controlling the speed of the grid and allowing slow starting cars to catch up and assume their correct grid position. Paddock Marshalls will direct any cars failing to start within a suitable time to pit lane
- Cars approach the Start line at slow speed governed still by the lead cars. Red Lights will be on and, assuming the grid is in order, the lights will be switched off and the race will begin. Cars in pit lane which may join the race after the last car has passed the start line or pit lane exit.
